PRIORITIZE YOUR PERSONAL VALUES

They are all important to you to have made it into your top 10.

This will be a difficult step, but order them with the most important value at the top of the pyramid, and the least important at the bottom.

Dig deep and try to recall moments where you may have had to make this priority decisions in the past.

VALUES FOR THE SOUL

Chances are that your top 3 personal values have specific memories attached with them. Use this to your advantage to relive similar moments by choosing a life that will allow this to happen.

For instance, if a top value is to be unique, don't fall into a 9-5 job routine wearing a suit and tie like everyone else.

Instead, position yourself as an eccentric freelancer with the ability to make your own hours and enjoy not-so-common hobbies such as skjoring, noodling and bouldering.

LIFELONG VISION STATEMENT

Using your newly-found priority list of values, compose your vision statement and stick to it. An example: "I aim to empower communities with my unique leadership skills to grow their industries ethically."

Go ahead, give it your best shot.
